

Sreedhar Somisetty

I have been an active member of the community and of the HTCC for the last decade, and served in various capacities in the organization. As every Indian would feel, I share the commitment to further our cultural values and diversity to the next generation and the greater American community.

A thriving Indian community proud of its culture and values is my mission.

The HTCC and IHCC give an excellent platform for this to happen. The Center provides a place for Indians to fulfill their religious and cultural needs. We want our next generation to grow up in this thriving center, make new friendships, and understand the depth and diversity of our culture. This will eventually make them better citizens deeply rooted and appreciative of their background.

As a Board member, I envision being a part of this sacred journey. The goal is difficult, and entails balancing our long-term vision with financial sustainability, building a volunteer base, and involving the greater community through outreach programs.

I bring with me my experience, vision, and deep understanding of the needs of the organization and that of the community.

It will be an honor to continue serving the Board, and I firmly remain committed.
